

Propositions

- Dutch research universities should become more graduate
- University architects and builders should go east.
 - The future projects will be in the far east and the middle east.